SEDALIA, MISSOURI, MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 15, 1894.—SIX PAGES

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

HANGED BY A MOB.

A Kentucky Desperado's Career Suddenly Ended.

TOO FREE WITH HIS GUN.

When He Killed His Second Man in Two Weeks the People Removed Him.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 15.—A special to the Commercial from Lexington says: Another lynching was added to the unusually large fall series of blue grass lynching bees Saturday at the close of the Beattyville fair. Oscar Morton, the most prominent citizen of Morton, in Powell county, went on the war path. Only two weeks ago Morton killed his man at Stanton, and was out on $5,000 bond to appear at the Powell circuit court. When Morton arrived at the fair he proceeded to get drunk, and then went to hunt for Sheriff Simms, who is his deadly enemy, a feud of long standing existing between the two. Simms and Morton met near the entrance to the fair grounds, and after a few words both of them drew their guns and a quick exchange of shots followed, Morton using two guns. His first shot broke the sheriff's right arm at the elbow, and John Hogg, a friend of Simms' whipped out his gun and joined in the battle. When the smoke had cleared away it was found that Sheriff Simms was dead, having a shot through the breast, one in his abdomen and another in his arm. Morton was shot through the neck, while Hogg was unhurt. Before a crowd could collect Morton was hustled to the county jail and placed under guard.

The people became infuriated and a big meeting was at once held on the public square. Col. John Drummond mounted a barrel and made a speech in which he said the murderer must be hanged, but that the work must be done quietly and with perfect order; Morton had killed two men in less than two weeks' time and he must die by the rope. A mob was quickly formed and marched to the jail. The jailer was overpowered and the keys to Morton's cell obtained. He was found lying in his shirt sleeves on the floor of his cell and after a bitter struggle was seized and dragged out. He then became very impudent and told the mob that he did not care what they did with him, provided they did their work quickly.

After a short parley he was taken to a bridge some distance from town and a rope was placed around his neck. The leaders drew their guns and told him to jump, or else he would be riddled with bullets. Turning around the doomed man cursed his captors, and uttering wild imprecations, leaped into space. The jump broke his neck, and after dangling in the air for some minutes he became still, and a volley of bullets were fired into him. The mob then dispersed and the body was left dangling from the bridge. None of the mob made any attempt to conceal their identity, and the hanging was conducted with as much formality as if it had been a legal affair. The dead sheriff was only recently married and leaves a young wife.

The murderer was a wealthy man who lived at Stanton. He has killed three men. Coming to the fair he attempted to kill the fireman of the train because he would not increase the speed the locomotive was running. This is the eighth lynching in Central Kentucky in the past three months, and the people have determined to put down murder if they have to take the law into their own hands every time a man is killed. Morton's relatives are incensed over the lynching, and it may be that some of the old feuds will be reopened.

Corbett's Man Is Here.

J. F. Kenney, in advance of World's Champion James J. Corbett's "Gentleman Jack," arrived from St. Louis this afternoon and is at Kaiser's.

Mr. Kenney comes to see that the town is properly billed for the appearance of the champion at Wood's opera house on Saturday night next. He has been playing to crowded houses throughout the country, and the paper that is being put up in Sedalia is as attractive as ever graced a bill board.

THE Y. M. C. A.

Games and Bicycle Races to be Decided on Thursday.

The state championship meet of the Young Men's Christian association of Missouri will be held at Sedalia on Thursday next, October 18, and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of Sunday says:

The contests will be conducted on the pentathlon plan. There will be no handicaps. Each association or branch competing for the banner or medals may send one or more teams of three men each, or a less number as individual entries. Each team will be designated so as to distinguish it from any other team representing the same association. Substitutes will not be allowed.

Contestants must have been members of the association or branch they represent for at least three months prior to the games. The entrance fee for teams is $3 and for individuals $1.

A fine banner will be presented to the victorious team. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be presented to the individual winners.

The athletic events are: 100-yard dash, throwing the 12-pound hammer, running high jump, pole vault, one mile run.

The following bicycle races are carded: One-half mile open, one mile and three mile handicap. The L. A. W. rules, Class A, will govern.

A game of basket ball will be played between Kansas City and Springfield Young Men's Christian association teams.

THE NEW LINE.

Mr. W. S. Epperson is Confident That It Will Be Built.

W. S. Epperson returned last night from Marshall and reports that work on the electric railroad to be constructed from Miami to Sedalia will soon be commenced.

Mr. Epperson is on the "inside," as it were, in regard to the enterprise, and has never for a moment entertained the least doubt about the road being built.

Twenty miles north of Sedalia, in Saline county, is Coal mountain, which the road will touch; and with the transportation facilities that the electric railway will give it is believed that Sedalians will be furnished fuel next year at a figure considerably below what they have had to pay this year.

WANTS HIS $100.

A Sedalian Belonged to the Regiment That Captured Jefferson Davis.

Luther Mitchell, who has been a resident of Sedalia for the past two years, was a member of the Fourth Michigan cavalry, the command that captured Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, in Georgia at the close of the war in 1865.

Mr. Mitchell called upon Capt. W. A. Fast today to make inquiry as to whether it was true, as he had been informed, that the government had paid each member of the Fourth regiment $100 in consideration of Davis' capture.

"I was not with the squad that made the capture," said Mr. Mitchell to a DEMOCRAT reporter, "but they were a part of my company, and if all of the members of the regiment were paid $100, as I have been told, then I'd like to have my share."

THEY TRADED WIVES.

For This Reason a Minister is Forced to Retire From the Ministry.

ANDERSON, Ind., October 15.—Rev. Dr. Smith, well known in religious circles throughout Indiana, while preaching at Winchester became infatuated with the wife of Fred Helm. Mr. Helm, strangely enough, fell in love with Mrs. Smith and the result was they traded wives. This caused a very great sensation and necessitated Mr. Smith's retirement from the ministry. Saturday the judge of the circuit court of Anderson county granted Mrs. Smith a divorce.

A PRISONER IN IRONS.

He Was Taken to Boonville on Last Evening's Train.

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Hatton, of St. Louis, arrived in Sedalia yesterday afternoon, having in custody George Boswell, the scion of a prominent St. Louis family, who was taken to Boonville at 7 o'clock p. m., to be tried on a charge of burglary and larceny, the case having been sent to Cooper county on a change of venue.

Although only 21 years old, Boswell already has the reputation of being a dangerous crook. When hardly 18 years old he organized a band of West End daylight burglars in St. Louis, all the members of which were sons of well known citizens. After a dozen burglaries, in which property to the value of fully $10,000 had been stolen, were committed the detectives arrested Boswell, Herold B. Paine and William Price.

Seven warrants for burglary and larceny were issued against them. In one case, Paine got five years, only to be pardoned after serving two years. The other cases were continued generally. All of the cases against Price were nolle prossed. In one case Boswell was sent to the Reform school at Boonville until he became of age. For some reason he gained his liberty and, returning to St. Louis last spring, organized another gang of youthful burglars. More depredations followed.

DEMOCRAT PRIZE.

It Was Won by Miss Mamie Tedford.

HER GUESS WAS CORRECT.

An Interesting Guessing Contest Closed Last Saturday Evening and Decided Today.

Last week the DEMOCRAT offered a prize of ten dollars in gold to the person who should first guess the number of lines of advertising in Sunday's DEMOCRAT, the contest to

Wm. Courtney's

Are the best.

Walter St. Vrain, alias John Carr, Boswell, Larry Murphy and Louis Fielding. Boswell will now be tried at Boonville on one of the five charges against him. Fielding, at his last trial, was given 10 years. Owing to his age, Judge Edmunds reduced it to five years. St. Vrain and Murphy were each given three years in one of the cases.

YELLOW JACKET NEST.

A Monster One Found by a Pettis County Gentleman.

Thomas Godbey, a Pettis county boy, writing to R. A. Blair of the natural curiosities in Florida, says:

"Perhaps the most wonderful thing I found was a yellow jacket's nest. A Missourian finding one as large as a bucket would think it monstrous large, yet one I discovered here was as large as a railroad tank. It measured fourteen feet long, was ten feet wide and twelve feet high, besides being full of yellow jackets."

"They build their nests on top of the ground, selecting stumps or broken trees for support, around which they build their nests, of coarse paper, like hornets, tapering it as it ascends, so that it resembles a tent or a stack of hay."

"Other nests found were eight by eight and seven feet high. Being easily burned, they offer an open invitation to observers to put a match to them, too often accepted by persons ignorant of the economy that all bees perform in the natural systems of vegetable and animal life."

Taken to Prison.

Deputy Marshal McGowan, of Jackson county, passed east this forenoon with three prisoners for the penitentiary.

Many athletes will contest for honors at the Y. M. C. A. field meet Thursday p. m.

close at six o'clock Saturday evening.

Today the number of lines were counted and found to be 1,897. Then a committee, consisting of Messrs. John W. Baldwin and C. G. Doty, proceeded to open and examine the guesses filed.

The committee found that the first correct guess, 1,897, was filed by Miss Mamie Tedford, and was numbered 334. Accordingly the committee declared that Miss Tedford is entitled to the prize, which she will receive upon application at the DEMOCRAT counting room.

Miss Mamie Tedford, whose judgment proved so correct, is the daughter of Conductor Wm. Tedford, of the Missouri Pacific, and resides at No. 1104 East Broadway.

The contest has awakened a great deal of interest and has attracted the attention of many newspaper readers to the matter of advertising, which they will continue to study and from which they will receive substantial benefits when they come to purchasing either articles in any and all lines.

This is not the last contest of the kind the DEMOCRAT will arrange, but from time to time we shall endeavor to make the advertising department as interesting as possible to DEMOCRAT readers.

THE longer the campaign continues the more confident and enthusiastic the Pettis county democrats are becoming.

THE political campaign will soon be over, and then even the partisan republican press will cease to oppose the coming business revival.

DOES anybody know what has become of Hon. Richard Kerens and the other silk stocking republicans? Has Boss Filley completely eliminated them?

THE hearty, enthusiastic reception everywhere extended to the democratic candidates for county offices indicates that Pettis county voters will give them a splendid endorsement in November.

PROTECTION is dead! It is contrary alike to the interests of the people and the spirit of the age. Freedom of speech, freedom of conscience, freedom of trade and freedom of man are ideas that are growing popular as people become more enlightened.

THE panic came upon the country under laws enacted by the republican party. A democratic congress passed a bill which speedily ended the financial disturbance and enacted a tariff law under which the industrial stagnation is rapidly giving place to business activity.

THE populist party has in its platforms many things the DEMOCRAT does not endorse, but this paper does not believe that the rank and file of that party will agree with their congressional candidate, Mr. Tiffin, in endorsing religious proscription.

Why can't the business men of Sedalia get together and offer such advantages as will induce some practical man to establish a canning factory in the city? There is not much money required in the business and the bulk of the expenditure is for labor either to the hands employed in the factory or those who produce the raw material.

THE A. P. A. at Kansas City is all torn up, and charges and counter charges are fired at each other by the leaders and those who have lately withdrawn from the order. If this fight goes on much longer even Col. Tracey, the republican candidate for congress, may hear of the organization and of its aims and purposes.

THE republican candidate for governor of New York has been caught violating the law against importing alien contract labor. He forgot that the law his party once enacted legalizing and encouraging such importations, in order to displace American workmen with cheaper labor, has been repealed. Unfortunately, however, the object of the law was too well accomplished before its repeal could be secured.

THE republican journals predict that Pennsylvania will be the banner republican state in the coming elections. That is perfectly natural, considering that that state has been especially favored by the republican policy. But if the people of Pennsylvania are to stand practically solid in support of the party which enables its capitalists to levy tribute upon the balance of the country, what shall the great agricultural states do?

THEY have caught a Missourian in Washington on suspicion of robbing a train in Virginia. The fellow claims to have worked in Liberty and to have resided in Saline county, but raises doubts as to the truth of his story by loud, boastful, obscene talk. Everybody knows that in grand old Missouri even train robbers are gentlemanly in their talk and modest in their behavior. It is probable that this alleged train robber is some scrub who never saw Missouri.

CONGRESSMAN HEARD'S opponents need not affect to believe that his temporary ill health will in any way affect the vigor of the democratic campaign or his ability to perform the duties of his office. Mr. Heard is one of the hard-working members of congress, but he is so familiar with public matters than he can dispose of an amount of work that would discourage any ordinary man. His colleagues in congress have testified to their confidence in his ability by giving him the chairmanship of one of the most important committees in the house.

THE republican campaigners dodge both the silver question and the income tax. They have not the courage to tell the people their true positions on these questions, but the history of the party is so plain that there can be no doubt as to its policy on both questions. Having established the single gold standard for the benefit of the income class, it will maintain that standard for the same reason. Having opposed the policy of taxing the rich and relieving the poor, the republicans will abolish the income tax if they are given the power.

THE esteemed Globe-Democrat is hard pressed for arguments in support of McKinleyism—which it once denounced as a ruinous policy—and attempts a comparison of the industrial condition of the country during the first six months of 1894 with the condition during the same months in 1892. It is sufficient answer to say that during the whole of both periods the McKinley law was in full force and effect, and therefore it is to the McKinley law, and not to the new measure, that the calamity complained of is due. A better comparison would be the relative improvement during the two months following the passage of the two bills. That would show what effect the changes had upon the country.

THE DEMOCRAT believes that Hill will be elected governor of New York at the coming election. But, whether he is elected or defeated, it does not settle the presidential campaign of 1896 by any means. The fate of the democracy in 1896 depends not upon what action New York shall take in 1894, but upon the effect of the tariff bill lately enacted and upon the earnestness with which the majority of the party in congress shall take up and argue financial reform. It is by no means certain that financial reform can be secured during the next congress, but the issues can be made direct and the majority of the party can make the position of the democracy so plain that with a western man as standard bearer we can win in 1896 either with or without New York.

A Brother of a Sedalian Rides from St. Louis to San Francisco.

A brother of Sedalia's well-known townsman, A. R. Easton, was referred to as follows by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch of yesterday:

George S. Easton, the St. Louis boy who, with Harry J. Alvord, also of this city, wheeled from St. Louis to Francisco, has returned home. He made the return trip by rail, Mr. Alvord remaining at Frisco and subsequently sailing for Japan, with the intention of touring the Oriental countries. Both Messrs. Easton and Alvord are members of the Pastime Athletic club. They are the only cyclists who made the trip from the Mississippi river to the Pacific ocean on their wheels.

The pair left St. Louis on the morning of Thursday, July 26, with the expectation of wheeling to the Pacific coast by the early part of September. A delay at Denver during the L. A. W. annual meet, however, prevented the venturesome pair from reaching San Francisco earlier than Sept. 29. They completed the 3,500-mile journey over two mountain chains and three deserts in sixty-five days.

Mr. Easton, who is one of the best amateur photographers in the city, took his camera with him and secured numerous 6x8-inch views all along their route. The trip was made purely for pleasure, both gentlemen undertaking it as a novel vacation outing. Mr. Alvord was so pleased with the trip that when he struck San Francisco he made up his mind to take the ocean ride across the Pacific and then wheel through the Oriental countries. He was exceedingly anxious to have Mr. Easton stay with him, but the latter had determined to come home, and after a week's stay in the Pacific coast metropolis, packed his wheel aboard a train and started for St. Louis.

Upon reaching here Tuesday he learned of Mr. Alvord's having sailed for Japan. On their trip to Denver, Messrs. Easton and Alvord wheeled by way of Jefferson City, Mo., Fort Scott, Kan., and Pueblo. From Denver they took a circuitous route as far as Cheyenne, Wyo., and thence to Salt Lake. From Salt Lake they made a 1,000 mile trip to Yellowstone Park. Leaving the park they returned to Salt Lake and thence proceeded on their way to San Francisco.

Mr. Easton is 22 years of age and a son of Col. Alton R. Easton, a pioneer of this city, after whom Easton avenue is named. Mr. Alvord is 24 years of age and a son of B. C. Alvord, secretary of the Schultz Belting Co., with which firm he is also connected.

A SEDALIA SINGER.

A Compliment Paid Him by a Newspaper at Fayette, Mo.

There was a good house at the Christian church last night, says the Fayette Democrat-Banner of Saturday, to enjoy the entertainment by Miss Bernice Costello. She was greeted with applause at the beginning of the entertainment, and after an hour and one-half of recitations, interspersed with instrumental music and song, she closed in the midst of a burst of applause. By request, Miss Costello rendered the very interesting story of Damon and Pythias, acting during this recitation the part of the wife of Pythias. Miss Costello had a good and hearty reception by the people of Fayette; she having taught at Howard-Payne college a year or two ago the people were well prepared to give her a good hearing and appreciated fully her recitations.

It would not be fitting to close an account of the entertainment without mentioning the part of Mr. E. E. Clark, of Sedalia. Mr. Clark sang several solos; to say that everybody enjoyed them would be saying it tamely; everybody was delighted with Mr. Clark's singing. He has a superb baritone voice. He is a fine singer and captivates his audience. Mr. Clark was accompanied by Mr. Frank Briggs, the accomplished pianist and master of the organ. Mr. Briggs opened the entertainment with a delightful voluntary on the elegant new organ of the church. The gross proceeds were $47 95.

Mike Was On.

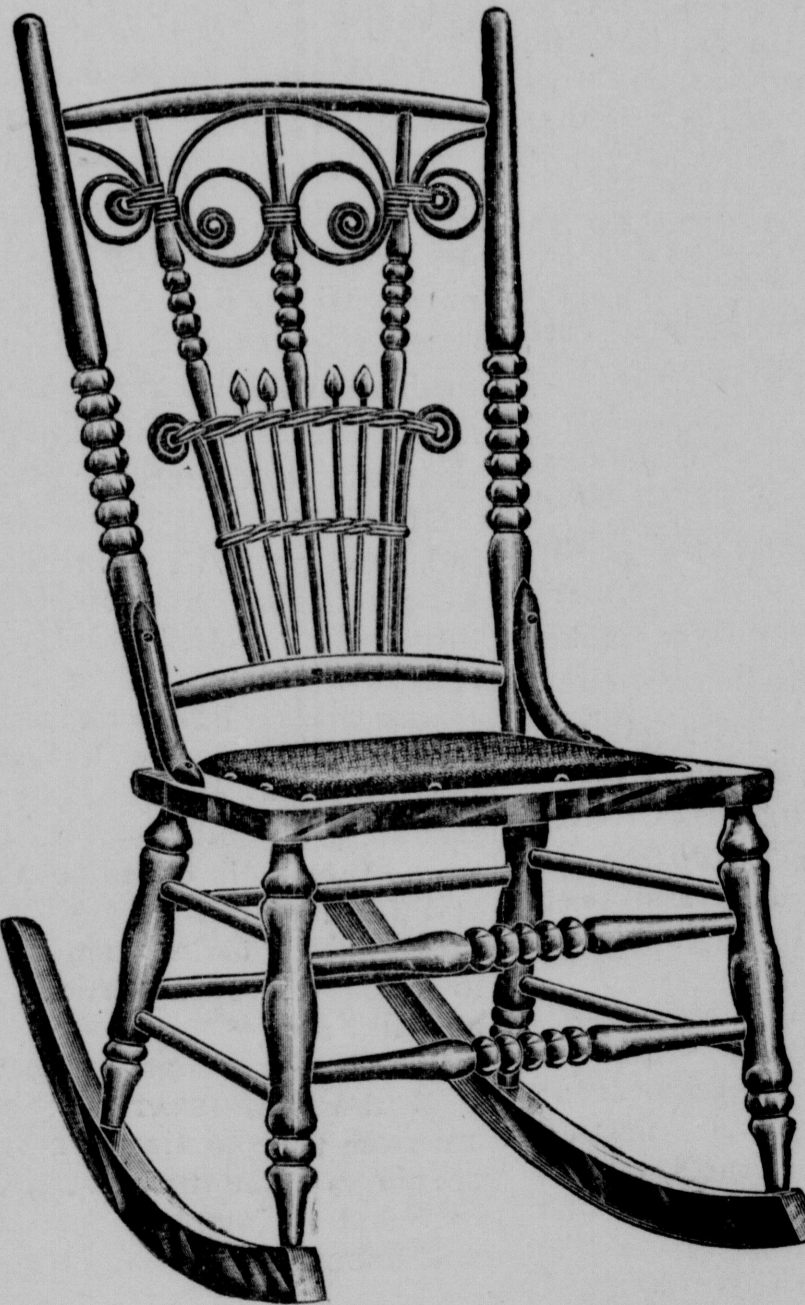

A Catholic priest was one day taking up a collection to liquidate the coal bill, and as he passed the plate to "Mike," the latter gave him a somewhat scornful side glance and failed to contribute. Next day the priest said, "I see, Mike, you didn't give anything for coal yesterday."

Mike (knowingly).—"I'm on to you."

Priest.—"I don't quite understand."

Mike.—"Oh, I'm on to you! You said the collection was for coal, when you knew that the church was heated by steam!"

RAILROAD RUMBLE.

A Conductor Who Has Perused His Own Obituary.

WHAT THE KATY SAYS.

Items of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of "Democrat" Readers.

Eight years ago, while living at Hannibal and running on the Hannibal & St. Joseph road, Conductor Sid Lancraft was stricken with typhoid fever. On the night when the crisis came, says the Kansas City Journal, he sank so low that no sign of life could be found, and the physician declared him dead. There had been much interest felt in the case by the railroad men and the public along the road, and when the report was made public that he was dead the night operator at Hannibal told it to the dispatcher at Brookfield, and during a lull in business that night the dispatcher called "all stations" and sent out the sad announcement that Lancraft had made his last run.

The news spread rapidly and was printed in the papers all over the country. The Associated press sent it out, as he was a prominent official in the Order of Railway Conductors, and the St. Louis, Hannibal and Quincy papers published lengthy biographical sketches of him.

The next day telegrams of condolence from all over the country came pouring in to Mrs. Lancraft from the Order of Railway Conductors' divisions and other sources, and testimonials followed. Then later came the papers from all the towns along the Hannibal road, each containing the notice of his death and mention of his popularity and long and faithful service. It was over a month before the papers ceased coming. The railway publications took the news from the Associated press and gave lengthy notes of his demise. In nearly all cases the papers were sent to his family. From various points came letters of condolence from personal and family friends containing touching references to the memory of the gentleman supposed to be deceased.

But he was not dead. Far from it. He was alive and on the highway to recovery. During the night of the crisis he rallied, and from that time on steadily regained his health and was soon past all danger. It was weeks before he was able to be out, but finally when he was sufficiently recovered he was shown the numerous articles published concerning him, in one of which it was stated that he would be buried in the family lot at Hannibal. While deeply grateful to realize that all of it was false, he had all the files preserved, and now has a scrapbook in which he has arranged all the clippings. It is probably the only one of the kind on earth, at least Mr. Lancraft has never been able to hear of another similar to it. He prizes it highly and takes no small amount of pride in the kindly mention made of him by the different writers.

The "Katy's" Statement.

General Passenger Agent Barker, of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, says with regard to the Chicago dispatches charging his department with juggling with tickets and demoralizing rates in the north and northwest, that the complaints originate with the Western Passenger association; that the officials of that association opened up telegraphic correspondence with him on the subject, and that the telegrams were couched in such insulting terms that he declined to take any further notice of them.

The "Katy" is not a member of the Western Passenger association, but it has never done a thing, Col. Barker says, to disturb business within the jurisdiction of that association, and is not interfering with the business of the lines in that association. It is simply trying to take care of its own business in its own territory.

Another train robbery scare prevails on the M., K. & T. in the Indian territory, and the "guard-men's association" is once more on the pay roll.

Walter Kent, assistant paymaster for the Missouri Pacific, passed west in his car yesterday afternoon and will distribute company checks through Kansas and Colorado.

Russell T. McReory, agent for the Denver & Rio Grande Express Co. at Trinidad, Col., expects to return to Sedalia with his family before the expiration of another twelve months.

The Chicago Great Western railway has presented $50 to Emma Jacobs, the 7-year-old girl who saved a train from plunging through a burning bridge near Dundee, Iowa, on the 26th of September. She flagged the train with her red apron.

S. B. Couchman, of the M., K. & T. offices in St. Louis, and a former resident of Sedalia, spent the Sabbath here and returned home last night. He came up to see his friend, J. L. Thornton, who is slowly gaining strength, but still lacks the power of speech even in a slight degree or the use of his right arm or leg.

The Eighth Annual Convention at Warrensburg This Week.

The eighth annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of Missouri will be held at Warrensburg on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 19, 20 and 21.

Ample preparations have been made by the Endeavorers of Warrensburg to receive the Endeavor host of Missouri to the home of the well known State Normal school and the famous Pertle Springs. The 1,000 students of the Normal have united with the local Endeavorers of Warrensburg to make this the best of all Missouri Endeavor conventions.

Large delegations are anticipated, and double meetings are arranged for Saturday and Sunday evenings. Two meetings for college students are planned, to be addressed by leading educators, notably, D. S. Kelly. Other features are provided, and young men and young women, whether members of the society or not, will be made welcome.

All railroads in the state will give one and one-third rate on the certificate plan, the Warrensburg hotels will make a rate of $1 per day, and private boarding houses 75 cents.

WILL BECOME A FARMER.

Anarchist Fielden Tires of City Life and Will Buy a Farm.

CHICAGO, Ill., October 15.—Samuel Fielden, the Anarchist, who was pardoned while serving a life sentence for participation in a Haymarket riot in 1886, has concluded to turn farmer. Since his release from the penitentiary Fielden has been driving a beer wagon, and having saved money enough is looking around for a farm to purchase. Fielden said:

"I will not change my views on economic and social questions, but I have not spoken at a public meeting for a long time and do not expect to. Why? Because it seems to me the millennium is a long way off. I don't expect it to come during my lifetime, so I might as well get some satisfaction out of life, and I think I can find it better and easier on a farm than in the unsatisfactory life that a working individual must now endure in the city. The time was, of course, when I hoped for better things in the condition of the people. That improvement was my millennium, but as I do not expect it to come during my generation, I will turn farmer."

LIVELY TIME IN OLD MONROE

A Free Fight in That Village Results in Several Broken Heads.

OLD MONROE, Mo., Oct. 15.—Old Monroe was the scene of a free fight Saturday night in which knives were used and several heads broken. The affair originated at a dance given to raffle off a horse. Four Rodgers brothers from Cap-au-Gris were against the home talent.

No less than ten or fifteen men were involved. When the noise of battle ceased the doors and windows and furniture of the saloon where the fight occurred were pretty well demolished and Jack Besselman, Lee Galloway and one of the Rodgers brothers were seriously hurt.

Hundreds of spectators will witness the field meet at Association park Thursday p. m.

Cases Continued.

In the police court, this morning, the cases of Jake Rymer and Eli Moore, charged with intoxication, were continued until tomorrow. "Little Willie," the professional "canner," was released yesterday and was not arraigned this morning, as he is considered deficient intellectually.

To the Editor of the DEMOCRAT.

The Sedalia Public Library wants the assistance of the teachers of the public schools; also, all the good people of the city of Sedalia to help make the library the best in the state.

This is the answer: "No new books yet." Then they say, "When will you have something new to read?" The library must have new books right away.

Gifts of books and pamphlets are solicited. Local publications are especially desired. Printed matter had better be sent to the library than to the paper mill. Reading rooms and reference department are free to all. All residents of Sedalia may obtain a reading privilege to take books to your home, on the following terms: One year $2.00; six months, $1.25; three months, $1.00. Come and see the library.

THE FOOT BALL TEAM.

A Game Will be Played With the Marmadukes Next Friday.

As the Sedalia foot ball team is booked for a game with the Marmaduke Military academy team next Friday, the 19th, the following description of how the game is played will be read with interest:

The team of eleven men is usually divided into seven rushers or forwards, who stand in a line facing their seven opponents; a quarter back, who stands just behind this line; two half backs, a few yards behind the quarter back; and finally, a full back or goal tend, who stands a dozen yards or so behind the half backs. This gives the general formation but is, of course, dependent on the plays to be executed. There is also a referee, umpire and linesman. The umpire is judge of the conduct of the players, regarding fouls and unfair tactics. The referee is judge of position and progress of the ball. The linesman times the matches and marks the distance gained or lost.

The game is started by a kick off from the center of the field. The opponents catch it and return it by a kick, or they run with it. If one of them runs with it, he may be tackled by an opponent. As soon as the ball is fairly held, that is, both player and ball brought to a standstill, the runner must cry "down;" and some one upon his side, usually the man called center rush, must place the ball at that spot for a "scrimmage," as it is termed.

The ball is then put in play again by the center rush snapping the ball back to a player on his own side just behind him, who is called the quarter-back. The quarter-back passes it still further behind him to a half-back or back, who endeavors to advance the ball as far as possible. The game thus progresses in a series of downs, followed by runs or kicks, as the case may be, the only limitation being that of a rule designed to prevent one side continually keeping possession of the ball without any material advance or retreat.

This rule provides that in three "downs" the ball must either be advanced five yards or must have retreated twenty yards, or the side having possession of the ball must surrender it to the opponent.

After the ball, by a succession of plays—runs, kicks, downs, etc.,— has been advanced across the goal line and "downed," it gives a side carrying it across a "touch-down," counting them four points, and a chance to kick goal which, if successful, counts them two points. The game is played in two "halves" of 35 minutes each, with a 10-minute intermission, on a field 330 feet long by 160 feet wide.

The Sedalia colors on the occasion of next Friday's game will be olive green and salmon pink.

THE COOK OUTLAWS.

They Are Now Terrorizing the Indian Territory.

BILL COOK THE LEADER.

He Is Only Twenty-Two Years Old and Has No Less Than Twenty Followers.

The Cherokee nation has produced many desperadoes in its time. Some of them have been captured, some of them have died naturally, and some of them are still running at large, but the majority of them have met violent deaths at the hands of brave and resolute officers who valued their lives as little as did the outlaws.

When Bob Dalton and several of his followers were killed at Coffeyville, a couple of years ago, says a correspondent of the St. Louis Republic, writing from Tahlequah, I. T., the good people of this nation breathed somewhat easier and slept sounder for a time. But since the commencement of the big Cherokee payment a new band of outlaws have been organized who have become as great terrors hereabouts as were Old Tom Starr or Bob Dalton in their palmiest days of lawlessness.

The Cook gang who robbed the Kansas and Arkansas Valley railroad station at Fort Gibson a few nights since have as their leader Bill Cook, a youthful half-breed Cherokee, not more than 22 years of age, and his followers, some fifteen or twenty in number, comprise almost every nationality. Many of Bill's subjects are old men, who have perhaps led lives of outlawry from their youth up and who are versed in all the varied phases of the highwayman's existence. Others of the gang are young like Bill; some are fugitives from the surrounding states who find temporary refuge from justice in company with the young desperado; while others are outlaws from choice.

Although a half-breed Cherokee

Indian, Bill Cook would pass in any country as a full-blooded white man. He is tall and handsome, with sharp blue eyes and brown hair. He is a good rider, a dead center shot and has an intellect as sharp as a two-edged sword. He rides fine horses, wears good clothes, a broad-brimmed hat, two six-shooters and a long-bladed bowie knife and is never found without a good Winchester.

The rendezvous of the Cook gang is in the mountains north of Fort Gibson, and although they are badly wanted by both the Cherokee and United States authorities, so far none of the officers have cared to risk their lives in an attempt to hunt them down and arrest them.

The Cook gang began their career as outlaws about five months ago, when they made an attempt to rob the Cherokee treasurer of $20,000 while en route from Tahlequah to Vinita with the money for distribution. The treasurer was expecting something of the kind, however, and after a desperate battle, in which one of the treasurer's guards was killed and Jim Cook wounded, the gang escaped and have been carrying on an indiscriminate robbing business ever since, during which time they have robbed the station at Fort Gibson twice, relieved private individuals of many hundred dollars and robbed the mail stage once between Tahlequah and Fort Gibson.

In the afternoon before they robbed the Fort Gibson station the gang went into a store of the town and one of them purchased several dollars' worth of merchandise and deliberately walked out without paying for the same. The storekeeper, knowing the desperate character of his customer, said nothing and allowed the outlaw to go ahead with the goods, not believing he would ever get a cent for them. But in this he was mistaken. After the gang robbed the station and divided up the swag the purchaser of the articles returned and paid for them, remarking to the proprietor that he was "broke" when he called in that evening, but had since made a raise and desired to pay up his honest debts.

Although the Cook gang is not yet as notorious as the Starrs, the Daltons and the Doolens were, their future history bids fair to be as eventful and their record as bloody as any who have ever preceded them.
